

Proposing high-quality dairy products as only we could

Dairy products business

Drawing on our unique and sophisticated technology, we develop, produce, and sell dairy products such as cheese and yogurt to give meals added flair.

Dairy products business

The first company in Japan to develop a drinkable yogurt, NIPPON LUNA INC. is a purveyor of yogurt and lactic acid probiotic beverages. Hoko Co., Ltd. has a lot of experience and technology in business in processed cheese for institutional use. Making the most of their respective technical strengths, the two companies are endeavoring to expand sales of the Group's quality dairy product brands.

●Yogurt and lactic acid probiotic beverages

Ever since its founding in 1964, Nippon Luna has been active as a dedicated manufacturer of yogurt and lactic acid probiotic beverages. Among Japanese firms, it has some of the highest capabilities for development of technology in the field of lactic bacteria fermentation. It is cultivating the market with highly original products such as Vanilla Yogurt and Mango Lassi.

●Cheese

Hoko makes processed cheese with the most select ingredients sourced from various countries, and has one of the top shares of the domestic market for institutional-use cheese. It also harnesses its refined expertise in development of retail products sold under the ROLF brand. Its ambition is to be the first name in fine cheeses.
