Stance and Policy on the Reduction of Investment Units

1. Stance on the reduction of investment units:

Nippon Meat Packers, Inc. (the "Company") recognizes it as an important issue for its capital policy to increase the liquidity of its shares in the stock market and expand the base of individual investors by reducing its investment units.

2. Policy on the reduction of investment units:

The Company will carefully study the possibility of reducing its investment units by watching the moves of the stock market, taking into consideration its business results and share prices and carefully making a cost-benefit analysis of the reduction thereof.
